

Transcript for EHS Safety in Science

[MUSIC]

Aerial shot of the oval

EHS provides a variety of safety resources and services to the university community.

A button being pressed, and a wood cutter being used.

Shop safety inspection.

Hazardous waste in a container being properly disposed

Hazardous waste disposal.

Nuclear treatment being throughout a hospital room

Nuclear medicine treatment.

Emergency vehicle turns on their sirens and drive

Chemical spill cleanup.

Person takes respirator test on themselves

Respirator fit testing.

Person tests the air quality and records measurements

Indoor air quality assessments.

People in lab consult each other

Laboratory consultations.

Different monitors are placed on a person to track radiation exposure

Radiation exposure monitoring

People inspect a tracker

Job hazard analysis.

Person checking for Asbestos

Asbestos assessments.

People sawing into item, tracking the noise levels

Noise surveys.

Two people are talking over a computer

Ergonomic assessments

A person moves a ladder and electrical cord then submits a 'Good Catch' form

Good Catch near-miss program.

Person tests river water

Environmental permitting

Website is pulled up

EHS also offers more than 75 safety courses online or in-person

Blank white screen with text come up

Be safe today and remain a Buckeye tomorrow!

EHS.OSU.EDU

Ohio State's logo appears on the screen